

Step 1: Double-Click on the Google File Stream Icon on your Desktop.

Step 2: Check to see if your Google File Stream is active. Click on the arrow box located in the lower right corner of your screen. It is circled in yellow in the picture below with an arrow pointing to it.

After you click on the arrow (circled in yellow above), you should see your Google File Stream icon (circled in red). Click on the Google File Stream icon to see if you are signed into it. If you are not, it will prompt you to sign in.